

THE WYOMING RURAL DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

The Wyoming Rural Development Council is a collaborative public/private partnership that brings together six partner groups: local/regional government, state government, federal government, tribal government, non-profit organizations and private sector individuals and organizations.

WRDC is governed by a Steering Committee representing the six partner groups. The Steering Committee as well as the Council membership has established the following goals for the WRDC:

- Assist rural communities in visioning and strategic planning
- Serve as a resource for assisting communities in finding and obtaining grants for rural projects
- Serve and be recognized as a neutral forum for identification and resolution of multi-jurisdictional issues
- Promote, through education, the understanding of the needs, values, and contributions of rural communities.

The Council seeks to assist rural Wyoming communities with their needs and development efforts by matching the technical and financial resources of federal, state, and local governments and the private sector with local development efforts.

PROCESS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS REPORT

The Wyoming Rural Development Council (WRDC) has provided a Resource Team to assist the town of LaGrange, Wyoming in evaluating the community's assets and liabilities and in developing suggestions for improving the environmental, social and economic future of LaGrange.

The town of LaGrange requested a community assessment from the Wyoming Rural Development Council. Cathy Stoddard served as the community contact and took the lead in agenda development, logistics and publicity for the assessment. Resource team members were selected to visit, interview citizens, and develop a plan of recommended action for the community. The team members were carefully selected based on their fields of expertise that LaGrange officials indicated would be needed to respond to the problem areas identified.

The Resource Team toured the town and interviewed approximately 93 people over a two day period from November 16-17, 2004. The team interviewed representatives from the following segments of LaGrange: seniors/healthcare, K-6 school children, agriculture, business, youth (7-12), government, church/non profits/ civic groups, and the public. Each participant was asked to respond to three questions designed to begin communication and discussion and to serve as a basis for developing the action plan. The three questions were:

- What do you think are the major problems and challenges in LaGrange?
- What do you think are the major strengths and assets in LaGrange?
- What projects would you like to see completed in two, five, ten and twenty years in LaGrange?

Upon completion of the interviews, the team met to compare notes and share comments following the two days of intense study. The team then agreed that each team member would carefully analyze what was said, synthesize what they heard with their knowledge of programs and resources, prepare their notes and suggestions, and forward these items to be combined into the Wyoming Rural Development Council's final report to LaGrange.

Executive Summary

On behalf of the LaGrange Community Assessment Team, I would like to thank the town of LaGrange and the community members who worked so hard to coordinate the LaGrange Community Assessment. This report contains an abundance of information that will hopefully be used by the people of LaGrange to better the community and reach its goals.

While reading this report, you will find a wide variety of recommendations made by the team members on the issues that were identified during the listening sessions. We encourage the town to use these recommendations to build a plan for the future of LaGrange.

Anything is possible if everyone works together to achieve a common goal! Every step, no matter how small is a movement in the right direction toward achieving LaGrange's goals. It can be done. What you do with the recommendations is your choice and will be accomplished by the dedicated citizens of LaGrange.

Members of our team will return to LaGrange to facilitate a follow-up meeting in the near future. The meeting will help determine the priorities and develop strategies for implementation in LaGrange. We encourage everyone from the town to attend this meeting, even if they were unable to attend the community assessment. This follow-up goal setting meeting will identify both short term and long term goals for LaGrange.

We hope that you will find great value in this report and remember that any team member is available for you to contact for more information or assistance!

Sincerely,

Ashley Camp
Team Leader

Nice quote to think about!

LAGRANGE COMMUNITY PROFILE

LaGrange, Wyoming is located off Highway 85, approximately 30 miles south of Torrington and 41 miles west of Scottsbluff, Nebraska. The town is situated in the North Platte River Valley Corridor, which was the route west for the Mormon, California/Oregon trails, the Overland Stage routes and the Pony Express.

Long a cattle and ranching area, La Grange saw the first cattle drive from Texas in 1886. When Texans learned of the good grass in Wyoming and Montana, they started bringing cattle through regularly in 1889 and continued until 1897. Herds would leave Texas around March 1 and reach LaGrange in June or later. The advent of fencing in Kansas and Colorado made the trail more difficult and trail herds eventually stopped in 1897. Trail crews often rested a few days in the LaGrange area and were entertained by local residents and businesses.

LaGrange was established in Wyoming Territory, prior to Wyoming's statehood and is one of the oldest towns in the state. The town was platted in 1837 on land claimed on the LaGrange brother's ranchland and was named for Kale LaGrange, a stagecoach driver on the Cheyenne to Red Cloud route. Application for incorporation was made in 1889 but was not completed until 1938. The first business in town was a mercantile opened in early spring 1889.

The town briefly flourished with the completion of the Union Pacific railroad facilities in 1928 when a depot, stockyards, light plant and schoolhouse were built. Today, a few dude ranches in the area provide a sense of the early pioneer days.

Introduction: I greatly enjoyed my time in LaGrange for the community assessment and I would like to thank the Town of LaGrange for the warm reception and excellent preparation and planning for the assessment. The Town of LaGrange appears to be a very clean, quiet and friendly town when visiting. I was very impressed with the turnout, honesty and openness of the listening sessions. They were very well attended and gave the team a good impression of what the people of LaGrange want for the future of the community. LaGrange and the surrounding area have an extremely interesting history that was fascinating to learn. I hope that the assessment and report will be a great motivator to the people of LaGrange to work together and implement positive change! Thanks again for your hospitality and the chance to visit with the friendly people of LaGrange.

Theme: Quality of Life

Challenge: The need for a safe walking path, the preservation and promotion of the historical aspects of LaGrange, preserving and or using the high school, town beautification and community wide programs for children, families and seniors.

Solution to the need for a safe walking path: It was identified over and over again in the listening sessions that LaGrange needs a safe walking path. The major concern was that right now people have to walk down the highway (and many do at night) causing a serious safety issue. It was stated that not only do the walkers have a concern about this problem but also the people who drive by said that they cannot see the walkers until they are very close and are afraid that they will be hit one day. A major concern with this issue was the amount of semi truck traffic that drives by LaGrange at very high speeds, not bothering to slow down through town. I have listed the address of the Wyoming Department of Transportation below and encourage you to contact them again about lowering the speed limit or putting in a light or crosswalk. When speaking with WYDOT I would stress how often people walk across the street to access the businesses and buildings and that many of the people who cross frequently are youth and seniors. If the town is able to have WYDOT come and look at the situation, it may be more likely for them to address the situation as it would not only be a major safety advantage for the people crossing the street but also benefit those who walk through town along the highway. As we learned in the listening sessions and observed during our stay in LaGrange, slowing people down would be a great asset to LaGrange, but the people still need a safe place to walk in the area.

A walking path is a great idea that could benefit the community in many ways. It would not only create a safe place for people of all ages to walk, it is also a great way to bring people together for exercise in a no stress environment. A problem that was brought up when discussing creating a walking path was the lack of land to build the path on. It was however stated that the town owns some land that may be of use for this purpose. It may also be beneficial to talk to the land owners surrounding LaGrange and see if they would donate or sell enough land to create a walking path around LaGrange. It is sometimes surprising to see how will people are to help with the greater good of the community.

Money is clearly the main barrier in a small town such as LaGrange, but there are opportunities for funding. A program that may be helpful is the Foundation for Rural Education and Development Ethyl Grant Program. The Ethyl Grant program focuses on improving economic conditions and the quality of life in rural communities. The Foundation for Rural Education and Development (FRED) was established by the Organization for the Promotion and Advancement of Small Telecommunications Companies. Now in its fourth year, the Ethyl Grant program provides matching grants to organizations that partner with OPASTCO member telephone companies for community projects. The grants, ranging from $500 - $2,500 are awarded bi-annually in October and May. An estimated $10,000 in funding is available in 2004. Another option for funding may be through the Union Pacific Railroad's Community Based Grant Program. Information about this program is online at the address listed below, and the contact information for the foundation is also listed below. I would also encourage the town to contact Tom Johnson, the Wyoming Business Council's Regional Director and Brad Sutherland, Executive Director of the Goshen County Economic Development Corp. for more information on this as well. In addition, the Wyoming Department of Transportation has some grant possibilities for this project as well. It may also be a good idea to contact the National Arbor Day Foundation to learn about the possibility of getting some trees for this project!

Solution to the preservation and promotion of the historical aspects of LaGrange and the high school: I was surprised and delighted to learn about the historical aspects of LaGrange and the surrounding area. The tour of the community and surrounding area was fascinating to explore and made me think that LaGrange could really capitalize on its location being close to many larger towns and major highways. If the citizens of LaGrange are interested, it may be possible to bring in more tourist traffic to learn about the history of LaGrange. The town is situated in the North Platte River Valley Corridor, which was the route west for the Mormon, California/Oregon trails, the Overland Stage routes and the Pony Express. These trails and Pony Express routes all carry a rich history that could be capitalized upon by LaGrange. In addition, with the history of cattle drives and the fact that LaGrange is one of the oldest towns in the state, many people should be interested in visiting and learning more about LaGrange. A matter to consider is that adding tourist attractions would obviously bring more people through LaGrange which has both positive and negative aspects to reflect upon. On one hand you may not want more traffic through the town, but bringing in more people would also help the local businesses to stay alive and thrive and possibly attract some other local businesses as well.

We heard often in the listening sessions how unhappy the people of LaGrange were about the high school being vacant and no longer used in LaGrange. Due to the age and excellent condition of the building, many people consider it to hold a great deal of historical value. The team was fortunate enough to tour the building and we found it to be both attractive and in good shape both inside and outside. A possible way to bring both challenges together would be to use the high school building as a museum/ gift shop and include in it a history of LaGrange and the surrounding area. This would keep the building from falling into disrepair and make it significantly easier to afford a museum/ tourist attraction since the building already exists. Establishing a relationship with state agencies such as the Wyoming State Parks and Historical Sites and the Tourism and Travel Division of the Wyoming Business

Council could be beneficial in implementing this project. Obviously this would take a lot of consideration before any decisions are made. A possibility for LaGrange to think about is conducting a tourism audit. Marketing experts Judy Randall and Berkeley Young travel to Wyoming on January 17 & 24 and Feb 7 & 14 to perform community tourism audits. Experts offer local tourism analysis. Randall Tourism Marketing is going to spend a full day in each community that signs up for the program and will conclude with objective recommendations on how to successfully promote each area. Wyoming Travel and Tourism is absorbing 75% of the consultant firms' charges. Total cost to a community is $250.00. Interested community leaders can contact Anita Withers at Wyoming Travel and Tourism: phone 777-2856 or email: awithe@state.wy.us

If LaGrange would like more tourist traffic there are a few fairly low cost options to look into. They include:

Radio Advertising Co-op Tourism is offering an instate radio advertising co-op through Clear Channel of Wyoming in partnership with Don Day Weather. This is an option to promote community events and activities to visitors as they travel within Wyoming. Partners will be able to buy one week advertising spots on over 40 Wyoming stations. For more information contact Linda Finnerty at Clear Channel Wyoming at 888-709-0098.

Newspaper Co-op Travel and Tourism will again be offering a newspaper co-op opportunity for 2005. For more information contact Amy Hume at Barnhart at 303-626-7200

Magazine Coop AAA has been selected by Wyoming Travel and Tourism to provide a magazine co-op for the second year in a row. Contracts have been finalized and sales reps are in the field working to fill the ad space for this 8 page special section. This will be in states with more than 5 million in circulation. Solution to town beautification: A theme that was discussed often in the listening sessions was that the town needed some beautification. Overall, the people felt that LaGrange was pretty clean and safe for their families. However, there was some comment on the trash that blows around in LaGrange. We all know that we cannot stop the wind, but we can have control over the trash in the town. I would suggest a town cleanup day to be held. The town is small enough that all of the streets could easily be cleaned in a few hours. The town could supply the trash bags and haul the trash away, and maybe host a picnic for all of the participants after the cleanup is completed. This is a simple and cheap way for the people of LaGrange to not only cleanup the town but also to socialize.

It was also mentioned frequently in the listening sessions that many of the trees in LaGrange are getting very old or dying and the need to replace them for the aesthetic value and safety of the residents of LaGrange. The need to beautify Main Street was also mentioned as a project with the idea of putting some trees, shrubberies or flowers in the middle since the main street is so wide. There are some options to help with the costs associated with these projects. The National Arbor Day Foundation has various programs to help communities with the need for trees. In addition, the Wyoming State Forestry will have good suggestions about what plants will grow best in LaGrange and may some ideas to help lower the costs of purchasing trees. I would also suggest talking to the Goshen County Weed and Pest district to learn about what species will grown best and how to avoid bringing in invasive species to Wyoming.

Solution to the need for community wide programs for children, families and seniors: The need for community wide programs was voiced in every listening session that we held during the assessment. If the community is able to build a walking path for the citizens, this could be a place for community programs to be held. You could hold nature walks and teach the school children and residents about nature and also the history of the area in a fun, active environment. If it is possible to use the old high for a fitness program, the town may be able to purchase used equipment that is still in decent condition from colleges or fitness centers in the area. That would be significantly cheaper than purchasing new equipment. There are also lots of opportunities for outdoor recreation. We heard often how popular the fireworks display is for the 4th of July, and that you get a lot of out of town visitors just for the day. Maybe try and make it a two or three day event by adding celebration of the history of LaGrange with a parade and maybe a cattle drive since LaGrange has cattle drives as part of its history. This would be a way for the community to get together and spend time helping the community out while also promoting it.

We heard in the listening sessions from the bible school students that they were willing and in fact very happy to help out in LaGrange. We also heard the senior citizens mention that they sometimes need help shoveling their walks in the winter and raking leaves in the fall. This is simple to put two and two together. Capitalize on the fact that there are young people willing to help out other community citizens. I would encourage the senior center or the town council to talk with Frontier Bible School about setting up some volunteers to help shovel walks or rake leaves.

Another option for community programs to become involved with or start a 4-H program in LaGrange. 4-H is a great way to connect with the younger generation and could become a place for seniors to volunteer their time back into the community.

Another program that may be beneficial to involving people in LaGrange is the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program. Below is some information on the program and also contact information.

Big Brothers Big Sisters: 100 Years of Youth Mentoring

Founded in 1904, Big Brothers Big Sisters is the oldest and largest youth mentoring organization in the United States. In 2002, the organization served more than 200,000 youth ages five through 18, in 5,000 communities across the country, through a network of 470 agencies. National research has shown that the positive relationships between Big Brothers and Big Sisters and their Littles have a direct, measurable, and lasting impact on children's lives.

Big Brothers Big Sisters serves more than 200,000 children, ages five through 18, in 5,000 communities across all 50 states. There are two core Big Brothers Big Sisters programs:

Big Brothers Big Sisters - Community-based

Volunteers provide Littles with one-on-one time and attention in their communities, typically two to four times a month. During these unstructured outings they cultivate relationships that provide children with skills to manage every day challenges. Through simple friendship, Bigs experience the joy of helping children discover a world of possibilities and opportunities.

Big Brothers Big Sisters in Schools

Volunteers provide Littles with one-on-one time and attention in their schools, typically once a week during the academic year. Teachers identify children who can benefit most from interaction with a caring adult. As their friendships evolve, volunteers and children discover ways to make school and learning fun.

Additionally, there are several related programs that are customized to specific categories of children, volunteers or partners. They include:

Amachi Big Brothers Big Sisters

Amachi congregation members serve children of incarcerated parents. Big Brothers Big Sisters screens and matches church members with children who have been identified and enrolled by their custodial parent or guardian. An onsite church volunteer coordinator provides a point of contact for ongoing volunteer support and information. Because the church is a common meeting ground, there are enhanced opportunities for group events involving matches, or for support and training activities for volunteers.

AARP Big Brothers and Big Sisters

AARP volunteers meet one-on-one with their third-grade Littles once a week in schools for about an hour to engage in activities that promote learning and academic success. Retirees and other seniors enjoy the structure and daytime volunteer opportunity that AARP Big Brothers Big Sisters provides. Volunteers often participate in peer sharing following time with their Littles.

High School Bigs

High school juniors and seniors provide elementary student Littles with one-on-one time and attention, once a week during the academic year. The pairs meet during or after school hours depending on the proximity of their school locations. High School Bigs experience the joy and life changing power of service, build college resumes, and may receive school credits. Littles have the opportunity to connect with a role model close to their own age whom they identify with strongly.

BBBS Partnership with Four Leading Service Clubs

BBBS partners with the nation's leading service organizations, in an effort to significantly advance the goal of reaching every child who wants and needs a Big Brother or Big Sister. The Clubs -- Rotary, Optimist, Kiwanis, and Lions -- along with BBBS, received the "charge" from President Bush in July 2001, to work together to effectively serve more youth.

Other Programs

Additional Big Brothers Big Sisters programs include those which take place at workplaces, community centers Y's, and (non-Amachi) faith-based venues. Big Brothers Big Sisters works closely with parents and guardians to match every child with the right Big. Every volunteer is screened, trained, and supervised, and professionals in youth development support each match to help ensure that the relationship will be safe and rewarding for everyone involved.

Theme: Economic Development

Challenge: Recreation center and programs-swimming pool

Solution: The major requests were for a swimming pool and a fitness center. Obviously, building a recreation center would be very costly for the town to build. One possibility to curb the costs could be to use the old high school for the fitness center and build a pool close by or as an attachment to the building. Another option may be to add on to the senior center for this purpose.

There are some ways to help alleviate the cost to the community for things such as a recreation center. The Wyoming Business Council has some loan and grant programs that LaGrange may be eligible to apply for funding. The WBC has the Business Ready Community Grant & Loan Program. The program provides financing for publicly owned infrastructure that serves the needs of businesses and promotes economic development within Wyoming communities. I would recommend contacting Shawn Reese for more information; his contact information is listed below. The Wyoming Business Council also administers the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program for economic and community development projects, and its board of directors approves grant recipients. The Wyoming Community Development Authority manages the portion of funding designated by the Wyoming Business Council for housing in Wyoming. The CDBG Program is a federally funded pass through grant program from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Wyoming has received an annual allocation from a low of $2.2 million, to a high of $3.7 million. For the 2004 program, the state has received $3,754,809. For more information on this program, please contact Steve Achter.

Solutions to Telecommunications- The community stated that land phone service is very expensive. In addition, most places in the town do not have cell phone coverage. They need additional fiber optics as well. Obviously, there are two issues; one the lack of infrastructure, the other the low density of the population makes telecommunication very expensive. There are, however, loan and grant resources for both the town and for the companies that supply services to the town.

Solution to Paving the Streets and Highway Safety- We repeatedly heard that there are many streets in town that either need to be paved OR that need repairs. The lack of infrastructure makes it more difficult to attract business, reduces property values and has a cumulative negative affect on the grey water that collects after a storm or during spring snowmelt.

1. 10.665 Schools And Roads Grants To States (25 Percent Payments To States). Federal Agency: Forest Service, Department Of Agriculture. Objectives: To share receipts from the National Forests with the States in which the National Forests are situated. Information Contacts: Regional Office: USDA Forest Service- Rocky Mountain Region; 740 Simms St; Golden, CO 80401; Tel.: 303-275-5350.

2. USDA Rural Development can provide funds through our Community Facilities Program for loans and grants for community facilities as street repair and maintenance. The contact person is Lorraine Werner in the Torrington Area Office at 307-532-4880 Ext. 4; 1441 East M St. Suite A., Torrington, WY 82240-3521. La Grange is a grant eligible community for Rural Development's community facilities.

3. Office of State Lands & Investments: The objectives of this section are to work with grant and loan applicants to give them the greatest benefit for the funds available with the least amount of "red tape" and to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of Wyoming citizens by providing necessary public infrastructure throughout the state. The government grant and loan programs described below are used primarily for public water and sewer projects; streets, roads, and bridges; public health, safety, and medical facilities; jails and law enforcement facilities; and school districts. 4. Wyoming Department of Transportation has a Highway Safety Program. Grants are due 5/31 and the packet is on-line at: <http://www.dot.state.wy.us/generic/safety/index.html>.

Solution to Health Care Services – Many residents expressed their frustration with the lack of medical services available. Residents must go into Torrington, Scott's Bluff or Cheyenne for the most basic of health care. It would be helpful if there were regular "medical days" at either the Senior Citizens Center or the old High School. Residents could receive standard examinations, inoculations, well baby care, etc. Another method of improving medical availability is to improve the transportation services available to La Grange area residents. There are numerous sources of funds for such programs. In many cases, you would need to collaborate with another local community or the State Health Department.

1.93.268 Immunization Grants (Section 301 And 317, Public Health Service Act; Immunization Program) Federal Agency: Centers For Disease Control And Prevention, Department Of Health And Human Services. Objectives: To assist States and communities in establishing and maintaining preventive health service programs to immunize individuals against vaccine-preventable diseases (including measles, rubella, poliomyelitis, diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, hepatitis B, hepatitis A, varicella, mumps, haemophilus influenza type b, influenza, and pneumococcal pneumonia). Uses And Use Restrictions: Grant funds may be used for costs associated with planning, organizing, and conducting immunization programs directed toward vaccine-preventable diseases and for the purchase of vaccine; and for the implementation of other program elements, such as assessment of the problem; surveillance and outbreak control; information and education; adequate notification of the risks and benefits of immunization; compliance with compulsory school immunization laws; vaccine storage, supply, and delivery; citizen participation; and use of volunteers. Vaccine will be available "in lieu of cash" if requested by the applicants. Requests for personnel and other items "in lieu of cash" will also be considered. Vaccine purchased with grant funds may be provided to private practitioners who agree not to charge for vaccine. Grant funds may be used to supplement (not substitute for) existing immunization services and operations provided by a State or locality. Applicant Eligibility: Any State, and in consultation with State health authorities, political subdivisions of States and other public entities. Private individuals and private nonprofit agencies are not eligible for immunization grants.

Information Contacts: Headquarters Office: Immunization Services Division, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services, 1600 Clifton Road, NE., Atlanta, GA 30333 (404) 639-8208; Fax: (404) 639-8627; E-mail: JNK2@cdc.gov.

2.93.223 Development And Coordination Of Rural Health Services. Federal Agency: Health Resources And Services Administration, Department Of Health And Human Services.

Objectives: To develop and disseminate information to assist rural communities and rural health care organizations in developing and coordinating rural health care services. Sources of information include, but are not limited to, Federal and State agencies working in rural health care, health publications, research reports, and reports from national health care associations. Applicant Eligibility: Nonprofit private organizations that represent national, State and local rural health constituencies. The applicant must represent National, State, and local constituency groups who are interested in and committed to improvements in rural health care. Introduction- Many thanks to the residents of La Grange for your generous hospitality. The meals, snacks tours and accommodations were excellent. The candid discussion at the listening sessions will serve the community well when strategically planning the major projects and future of La Grange.

Infrastructure—Lack of Law Enforcement/Highway Safety

Challenges- enforcing speed limits on U.S. Highway and overall law enforcement in town.

Currently, the town depends on the Goshen County Sheriff for law enforcement. At the listening sessions a reoccurring issue/concern was the response time to incidents, lack of regular patrol.

Solutions- During the listening sessions several participants stated the town of La Grange had made past attempts and requests to the County Commissioners regarding regular patrol of the community even the possibility of having a Sheriffs Department officer live in the community. Due to the limited funding and staff available on the county level the community is faced with finding resources to assist with the issues at hand. At this point in time, the community is uncertain if hiring a law enforcement officer would be economically feasible to the community.

Although the community does not face a high crime rate the citizens expressed concerns regarding potential for break-ins, burglaries etc. A Neighborhood Watch Program could be enacted in order to keep crime at a low rate. The Neighborhood Watch Program is beneficial since it brings citizens together for the common good, improves relations between police force and the communities. The Goshen County Sheriffs Department would serve instrumental in working with the community thus providing an onset of possible regular patrols to the area.

The issue of enforcing speed limits on the main highway through town belongs to the Wyoming Highway Patrol.

Challenges:

Economic Development:

The community voiced concerns regarding business, Agribusiness development and enhancement and the availability of banking overall especially the lack of an ATM. Heard throughout several listening sessions was the need/desire of a recreation center for the community.

Business development and enhancement in La Grange can be approached from varying angles. Several citizens expressed the desire to enhance development of part-time jobs varying for the youth as well as the senior citizens. Currently, there are several empty store fronts/business fronts on the main street of the community. The community has expressed a strong desire to entice tourism to the area that will encompass the historical significance of the community. Business development centered on the tourism industry would enhance the overall spirit of the community as well as provide a destination point for travelers. Cottage industries and entrepreneurial avenues could prove beneficial for a community the size of La Grange. Attracting larger businesses will and has proven difficult. However, "home grown" businesses in rural communities the size of La Grange have proven beneficial and successful. The challenge the citizens' face is determining what type of cottage industries would be economically viable. The community should incorporate the idea to develop a strong vision and strategic plan including tourism as a segment to economic development for the community.

Challenges:

Quality of Life:

Citizens of rural communities every where are concerned about the quality of life. Not only are there concerns about the present issues but also the issues the community will face in the future. La Grange expressed their concern of the quality of life in their community by articulating the need for a walking path, preservation and promotion of historical aspects and the preservation of the high school which is of historical significance to not only the community but the State of Wyoming as well. During the listening sessions a common thread of concern was articulated regarding the beautification of the town. Several small projects can be enhanced by the citizens, churches and businesses in the community. 4-H Clubs, Boy Scouts and other youth organizations are often seeking for community projects to undertake. However, additional planning and funding can be sought through a variety of resources. As I have iterated throughout my writing, I cannot emphasize the importance of visioning and strategic planning for a community. Without visioning and planning all the good intentions and "wishes" for projects in the community will not become a reality. Along, with the visioning, planning and commitment of the citizens, I recommend an individual or organization be trained in grant writing skills. The Western Wyoming RC&D offers grant writing courses twice annually.

The Transportation Enhancement Activities Local (TEAL) grants program is administered by the Wyoming Highway Department. Projects are required to be located off the state highway system, be transportation related and commit environmental value to the transportation system. Bike and walking paths, roadside landscaping and historic preservation area projects that can be funded through the program. Grants range from $100,000 to $200,000. The grants require a twenty percent (20%) match. For additional information contact:
